Global Equity Portfolio

The portfolio's objective is to provide outperformance of a bespoke Global Equity Benchmark Index (5% cash, 65% UK shares, 30% overseas shares) over the medium term. Returns will be generated through both capital growth and income with a bias towards developed and liquid capital markets. The risk will be diversified by holding collective investments. The management of the portfolio aims to meet the objective conservatively by taking managed risk through fund selection and asset allocation.

Recent Activity

December's press was dominated firstly by the meteoric rise of Bitcoin which saw the cryptocurrency rise over 19x to its peak on 16 December. However, the currency fell more than 30% on six separate occasions during the year. Those who remember the DotCom bubble will testify to the risks of becoming embroiled in the latest tech craze. From its peak the currency had fallen 34% by the end of the year.

The other major topic was the largest overhaul of the US taxation system since Ronald Reagan as Trump finally got one of his election promises fulfilled. The fall in the corporate tax rate from 35% to 21% was a welcome fillip for company profits.

Within markets the FTSE 100 was the standout performer rising 5%. Emerging Markets were close behind rising 4% whilst Japan was the laggard at 0.3%.

Over the month the portfolio was up but underperformed the benchmark mainly driven by disappointing relative performance from the funds within the UK equities.
